

Part I - Foot Soldiers of the Movement (Choose two)

The Civil Rights Movement was successful because of the courage of common Foot Soldiers, folks like you and me - who followed their leaders non violently into battle at any cost. Take an event from the introductory list. Read about it. What about the event sparks your curiosity? What makes it noteworthy? Provide three separate insights to that event. Then make up an individual (a Foot Soldier) who may have participated in that particular event. Tell me who they are and why you chose them. Then tell a story - first person - of their thoughts inside of that event. First person diary. Be factual. Be emotional. Be memorable.

Event: _____

1 _____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____

2 _____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____

3 _____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____
_____

A Unique Perspective:

For this part of the assignment you make up somebody who may have been a normal everyday person who was involved in the above event. Can be a kid, an adult, a woman, a man, a black, a white, a Northerner or Southerner - for or against the Movement. Tell me why you picked that person. And then write a first person account of how they think about all this stuff that is happening to them:

Who & Why?

---

---

---

---

---

A STORY? Give me a good story - first person account (from the perspective of the above individual)

[illegible]