

Evaluations on Africa Fishline Timelines / Follow Up Assignment Guidelines

Below I have posted grades, comments, fixes and Digging Deeper Guidelines for your African Timelines. Look em over, if you think I've missed the boat - talk to me / nothing is in stone. However, I think they are fairly accurately evaluated.

Next step will be a fifty point (Fix it) homework assignment when we return. All items that need fixing - will have a week to get up and get right. We'll have some time in class - a couple of days. For the most part you just need to make the alterations and run them by me when they are complete. Two timelines will need to be moved. T.J. and Alberto - the wind will knock it down. And Almanda and Ashley - the Digging Deeper pages will block the overhead.

Digging Deeper - 100 point CA assignment

You will take your three Digging Deepers - and create a one page (front and back) hanger to drop from the original slide. At the same time change the original slide to an appropriate photo representation of the topic. You still want to label it, however remove any of the explanation font and include it in the hanger. As you research deeper into the chosen issues - remember that you will be responsible to present for the final CA assessment below. I will provide in class time for this assignment.

Digging Deeper Presentations - 100 point CA assignment

Each group will be provided one full class period to take each of their three chosen topics and present to the class. An hour is a pretty long time - which means you better be prepared - Audio Visual and lecture presentation. Each participant is required to be involved. You'll be graded both by students and by me. Students will take notes on the presentations and have a final grade open note test on those presentations. We will run the presentations two per week for four weeks, and include other assignments in the process. I will let you know when these presentations will take place.
